CONSENT ORDER FOR A CIVIL MONEY PENALTY

The Comptroller of the Currency of the United States of America (“Comptroller”), through his National Bank Examiner, has examined the affairs of Wachovia Bank, National Association, Charlotte, North Carolina (“Bank”).

The Bank, by and through its duly elected and acting Board of Directors (“Board”), has executed a “Stipulation and Consent to the Issuance of a Consent Order for a Civil Money Penalty,” dated April 24, 2008, that is accepted by the Comptroller. By this Stipulation and Consent, which is incorporated by reference, the Bank has consented to the issuance of this Consent Order for a Civil Money Penalty (“Order”) by the Comptroller.

The Bank, by and through its Board, has also executed an Agreement By and Between the Bank and the Comptroller, dated April 24, 2008.

ARTICLE I

COMPTROLLER’S FINDINGS

The Comptroller finds, and the Bank neither admits nor denies, without any adjudication on the merits, the following:

(1) From on or about June 1, 2003, until on or about December 31, 2006, the Bank maintained account relationships with certain payment processors for telemarketers, and direct telemarketers, including Payment Processing Center, LLC (“PPC”), FTN Promotions, Inc. dba

Suntasia, Inc. (“Suntasia”), Netchex Corp., Your Money Access LLC (“Netchex/YMA”), and related companies (collectively, “the payment processors and direct telemarketers”).

(2) As part of their business activities, the payment processors and direct telemarketers regularly deposited large numbers of remotely created checks (“RCCs”) in their accounts at the Bank.

(3) A substantial number of the RCCs deposited by the payment processors and direct telemarketers were returned to the Bank by or on behalf of consumers whose bank account information appeared on the RCCs for a number of reasons, including that consumers had not authorized the RCCs or that consumers did not receive adequate consideration in the transaction.

(4) Consumers were harmed in connection with the payment processors’ and direct telemarketers’ relationships with the Bank.

(5) In connection with its handling of the account activities of the payment processors and direct telemarketers, the Bank engaged in unsafe or unsound practices, including, but not limited to:

- (a) failure to conduct suitable due diligence on the accounts even though the Bank had reason to know that the payment processors and direct telemarketers were high-risk customers that posed significant legal, reputational and monetary risks to the Bank and monetary risk to consumers;
- (b) failure to recognize and properly address the risks posed by the activities of the payment processors and direct telemarketers;

- (c) failure to monitor the rates of return on the RCCs deposited into the accounts and to respond to allegations of consumer fraud from other banks and consumers; and
- (d) failure to follow the Bank's normal procedures for handling returned RCCs and implementation of a policy that had the effect of minimizing consumer complaints and scrutiny of the Bank's relationships with the payment processors and direct telemarketers.

(6) In connection with its handling of the account activities of the payment processors and direct telemarketers, the Bank engaged in unfair practices in violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. Section 45(a)(1).

(7) The Bank's handling of the account activities of the payment processors and direct telemarketers was part of a pattern of misconduct that resulted in financial gain to the Bank in the form of fee income from the payment processors and direct telemarketers on returned RCCs, and a pattern or practice of disregard of the interests of consumers involved in transactions with the payment processors and direct telemarketers.

ARTICLE II

(2) This Order is intended to be, and shall be construed to be, a final order issued pursuant to 12 U.S.C. § 1818(i)(2), and expressly does not form, and may not be construed to form, a contract binding on the Comptroller or the United States.

The Comptroller of the Currency of the United States of America (“Comptroller”) intends to initiate a civil money penalty proceeding against Wachovia Bank, National Association, Charlotte, North Carolina (“Bank”) pursuant to 12 U.S.C. § 1818(i) for unsafe and unsound banking practices and violations of law relating to the Bank’s banking relationships with certain third party payment processors for telemarketers, and direct telemarketers.

(2) The Bank understands that nothing herein shall preclude any proceedings brought by the Comptroller to enforce the terms of this Order, and that nothing herein constitutes, nor shall the Bank contend that it constitutes, a waiver of any right, power, or authority of any other representatives of the United States or agencies thereof, including the Department of Justice, to bring other actions deemed appropriate.
