CONSENT ORDER FOR A CIVIL MONEY PENALTY

The Comptroller of the Currency of the United States of America (“Comptroller”), through his national bank examiners and other staff of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (“OCC”), has conducted an examination of UMB Bank, N.A., Kansas City, Missouri (“Bank”). The OCC has identified deficiencies in the Bank’s practices that resulted in violations of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), 15 U.S.C. § 45(a)(1), related to billing practices with regard to an identity theft protection product, and has informed the Bank of the findings resulting from the examination.

The Bank, by and through its duly elected and acting Board of Directors (“Board”), has executed a Stipulation and Consent to the Issuance of an Order for a Civil Money Penalty, dated August 1, 2017, that is accepted by the Comptroller (“Stipulation”). By this Stipulation, which is incorporated herein by reference, the Bank has consented to the issuance of this Consent Order for a Civil Money Penalty (“Order”) by the Comptroller.

ARTICLE I

COMPTROLLER'S FINDINGS

The Comptroller finds, and the Bank neither admits nor denies, the following:

(1) From June 2009 to February 2013, the Bank marketed and sold Fraud Protection Plus, an identity protection product offered through an Identity Protection Product Vendor, to Bank customers. The Bank marketed the product through direct mail campaigns until April 2011, and offered the product on its website and in branches until February 2013. The Fraud Protection Plus product included credit monitoring and credit report retrieval services, among others.

(2) The Bank customers who enrolled in the Fraud Protection Plus product were required to provide sufficient personal verification information and consent before their credit monitoring services could begin and their credit bureau reports could be accessed. Customers could not receive the credit monitoring and/or credit report retrieval services of the Fraud Protection Plus product in which they were enrolled until the information and consent were submitted.

(3) From June 2009 to April 2014, the Bank billed Fraud Protection Plus customers for the full fee of the product, even though not all customers were receiving the credit monitoring and/or credit report retrieval services of the product.

(4) From June 2009 to April 2014, the Bank retained a portion of the fees paid by the Fraud Protection Plus customers, including fees paid by the customers who were not receiving the credit monitoring and/or credit report retrieval services.

(5) By reason of the billing practices for the Fraud Protection Plus product described in Paragraphs (1) to (4) of this Article, which were the result of deficient vendor management practices, the Bank engaged in unfair practices in violation of Section 5 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a)(1).

(6) The Bank's violation of Section 5 of the FTC Act caused substantial consumer injury or was likely to cause substantial consumer injury.

(7) The Bank's violation of Section 5 of the FTC Act is part of a pattern of misconduct that resulted in financial gain to the Bank.

ARTICLE II

Pursuant to the authority vested in him by the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. § 1818(i), the Comptroller orders, and the Bank consents to the following:

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, 400 7th Street, S.W.,
Washington, D.C. 20219.

The Comptroller releases and discharges the Bank from all potential liability for a civil money penalty that has been or might have been asserted by the Comptroller based on the practices and violations described in Article I of this Order, to the extent known to the Comptroller as of the effective date of this Order. Nothing in the Stipulation or this Order, however, shall prevent the Comptroller from:

- (a) instituting enforcement actions other than a civil money penalty against the Bank based on the findings set forth in Article I of this Order;
- (b) instituting enforcement actions against the Bank based on any other findings;

- (c) instituting enforcement actions against the Bank’s institution-affiliated parties based on the findings set forth in Article I of this Order, or any other findings; or

(3) The terms of this Order, including this paragraph, are not subject to amendment or modification by any extraneous expression, prior agreements, or prior arrangements between the parties, whether oral or written.

IT IS SO ORDERED, this 1st day of August 2017.
