OCC BULLETIN 2013-37
Subject: Office of the Comptroller of the Currency Fees and Assessments
Date: December 12, 2013
To: Chief Executive Officers of All National Banks, Federal Savings Associations, Federal Branches and Agencies of Foreign Banks, Department and Division Heads, All Examining Personnel, and Other Interested Parties

Description: Calendar Year 2014 Fees and Assessments Structure

Summary
This bulletin informs all national banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks of fees and assessments charged by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) for calendar year 2014. The bulletin becomes effective January 1, 2014.

Highlights
For the 2014 assessment year, the OCC has removed the $20 billion asset cap on inflation indexing for all asset brackets and raised the asset cap from $20 billion to $40 billion for application of the surcharge related to lower-rated institutions. The OCC has made these changes to accommodate increased supervisory responsibilities associated with the Dodd-Frank Act.

Note for Community Banks
This notice applies to all banks.

SEMIANNUAL ASSESSMENT

2014 Assessment Schedule
As of January 1, 2014,
- Assessments are due March 31 and September 30, based on call report information as of December 31 and June 30, respectively. The assessments cover the six-month periods beginning January 1 and July 1, respectively. For example, the assessment due March 31 covers the period January 1 through June 30.
- The marginal rates of the OCC’s general assessment schedule continue to be indexed to reflect inflation as measured by the Gross Domestic Product Implicit Price Deflator (GDPIPD) for the previous June-to-June period. The GDPIPD adjustment is 1.4 percent for 2014. The indexing adjustment applies to all assets of national banks, federal savings associations, or federal branches or agencies of foreign banks.
- Fees assessed on independent trust banks and on independent credit card banks have also been
The OCC calculates the assessment fee due and drafts the fee amount on March 31 and September 30. The OCC provides seven business days’ notice of the amount to be drafted from an institution’s designated account. The institution is responsible for ensuring that the account is funded properly on the due dates.

The OCC continues to charge interest on all payments received after the due date. The interest rate charged is the U.S. Department of the Treasury’s current value of funds rate published quarterly in the Federal Register.

National banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks that are no longer subject to OCC supervision on or before December 31, 2013, or June 30, 2014, are not subject to the semiannual assessment for the period beginning January 1 or July 1, respectively. Only those institutions leaving the federal banking system before the close of business on those dates avoid paying the semiannual assessment for the period beginning January 1 or July 1, as applicable.

The OCC’s assessment schedule continues to include a surcharge for national banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks that require increased supervisory resources. The surcharge ensures that fees reflect the increased cost of supervision applying to those national banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks rated 3, 4, or 5 under the Uniform Financial Institutions Rating System. The surcharge also ensures that fees reflect the increased cost of supervision for these same banks under the Risk Management, Operational Controls, Compliance, and Asset Quality Rating System as of the relevant call date (that is, December 31, 2013, or June 30, 2014). The surcharge is to be applied to all components of an institution’s assessment, including book assets, assets under management (for independent trust banks), and receivables attributable (for independent credit card banks). National banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks subject to the surcharge calculate the surcharge by multiplying the sum of the general assessment (based on the institution’s book assets up to $40 billion) plus multiplying the independent trust bank assessment or the independent credit card bank assessment by 50 percent for 3-rated institutions and 100 percent for 4- and 5-rated institutions.

The OCC continues to reduce the assessment of nonlead national banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks by 12 percent. A nonlead institution, for this purpose, is a national bank, federal savings association, or federal branch or agency of a foreign bank that is not the largest national bank, federal savings association, or federal branch or agency of a foreign bank, based on total assets, controlled by a company owning two or more national banks, federal savings associations, or federal branches or agencies of foreign banks. Nonlead national banks, federal savings associations, and federal branches and agencies of foreign banks within any company should multiply their calculated general assessment by 88 percent to recognize the nonlead discount. The 12 percent discount does not apply to the independent trust bank assessment or the independent credit card bank assessment, given that independent trust banks and independent credit card banks, by definition, are not affiliated with full-service national banks, federal savings associations, or federal branches or agencies of foreign banks.

Each national bank, federal savings association, and federal branch and agency of a foreign bank pays the general assessment fee. Independent trust banks pay the general assessment fee and the independent trust bank assessment. Independent credit card banks pay the general assessment fee and the independent credit card bank assessment. Assessments are calculated using the schedules in this bulletin and then adjusted for the nonlead discount or condition surcharge.
