Flood Disaster Protection Act: Proposed Revisions to Interagency Questions and Answers Regarding Flood Insurance

Summary

On July 6, 2020, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), along with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Farm Credit Administration, and the National Credit Union Administration (collectively, agencies), published in the Federal Register "Loans in Areas Having Special Flood Hazards; Interagency Questions and Answers Regarding Flood Insurance" for notice and comment. The agencies propose to revise, expand, and reorganize the Interagency Questions and Answers issued in 2009 and 2011.¹

The agencies invite comments on the proposed new and revised interagency questions and answers. Comments must be submitted on or before September 4, 2020.

The agencies plan to issue separately for notice and comment new proposed questions and answers relating to the private flood insurance rule.² In the interim, the agencies provided in a webinar dated June 18, 2019, helpful information on the private flood insurance rule, which will be supplemented by the new proposed questions and answers.

Note for Community Banks

The proposed revisions to the interagency questions and answers would apply to all OCC-supervised banks.³
